BRRR! It's cold outside! As this cold weather is rolling in we all feel it, but the cold air affects our pets suffering from arthritis even more! At Flanary

Vet Clinic we offer multiple tools to diagnose pets with arthritis; then offer a wide array of treatments to fit the pet's needs and your pocketbook.

To diagnose arthritis, we will do a two-view x-ray of your pet. X-rays are used as the “window” to look inside the body. We can check for hip or elbow dysplasia, closed disc space, and degenerative changes in the spinal column. We can also see changes in the heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and even bladder stones. Never underestimate the importance of these internal “pictures” as they provide lots of information.

Once diagnosed with arthritis the first step would be putting your pet on GCM or a Glucosamine Supplement. This natural daily dietary supplement eases joint pain and improves joint function so your dog can have better mobility.

The second step would be Non-Steroidal Anti Inflammatories (NSAID). The NSAIDS

we offer at FVC are Carprofen, Metacam, Deramaxx, and Galiprant. We also have a one a month injection for arthritis in dogs called Librela. It is a nerve growth inhibitor and blocks arthritis pain but is not a NSAID that has negative effects long term on kidney and liver functions. If a pet has end-stage arthritic issues we can prescribe Gabapentin to manage pain. For our feline companions, Feline Cosequin is available as a glucosamine supplement. We are very excited to also have a once a month injection for our cats with arthritis called Solensia. It blocks pain with no side effects to the kidneys or liver. Kitties love laser therapy sessions for their arthritis as well!

Does your pet HURT with Arthritis?

Joint Support

Pain Relief

We can help your pet get the relief it deserves!

The third step would be getting the pet set up on a Laser Treatment Plan.

Flanary Vet Clinic is EXCITED to offer our clients painless Companion Laser Therapy. Laser therapy provides a non-invasive, pain-free, surgery-free, drug-free treatment that is used to treat a variety of conditions and can be performed with already existing treatment protocols. Relief and/or improvement is often noticed within hours depending on the condition and your pet's response. Whether your pet is rehabilitating from trauma or injury, healing from wounds, or simply aging, your companion can benefit from this innovative approach to treating pain.

Applications for laser therapy include:

- Treatment of arthritis, degenerative joint disease, or hip dysplasia
- General pain management (sprains, strains, and stiffness)
- Post-surgery pain (spays, neuters, declaws, and other surgeries) and is now offered complimentary on all spay and neuter surgeries!
- Skin problems (hot spots, lick granulomas, and infections)
- Dental procedures
- Fractures and wounds (bites, abrasions, and lesions)
- Ear infections

Best of all, laser therapy is long-term pain relief with no side effects!

How does it work?

Laser therapy stimulates the body to heal from within. Non-thermal photons of light are administered to the body for about 3 to 8 minutes and absorbed by the injured cells. The cells are then stimulated and respond with a higher rate of metabolism. This results in relief from pain, increased circulation, reduced inflammation, and acceleration of the healing process.

What can my pet expect during a laser therapy treatment session?

Simply put, it provides relief! As the laser is administered, your pet will relax and enjoy the treatment. The almost immediate relief of pain will allow your pet to be comfortable and any anxiety that your pet initially experiences will dissipate. Often times cats will start to purr and many canine companions will fall asleep during their therapy session.

What can my pet expect after a laser therapy treatment session?

Frequently, after therapy, we hear from clients: “He’s acting like a puppy again” or “She can actually jump onto the chair again.” Pain relief is provided in just a few minutes of therapy and that alone improves the quality of life for your companion.

COMMON PET EMERGENCIES

brought to you by  DVMmultimedia™ www.DVMmultimedia.com

24/7 WE ARE HERE FOR YOU!
Just call the clinic
270-898-9738

We take pride that...

Did you know there is always a veterinarian on call for our clients? After- Hours doesn't mean your pet can't or won't receive help in emergency situations. Several vet clinics refer all their emergencies to Nashville or Clarksville, but we see them locally for the best care of your pet. Remember to call 270-898-9738, and you will be put in touch with the local on call veterinarian to assist you with your pet.

DID YOU KNOW... that we are one of the few- if not the only- clinic in the Western Kentucky Area that offers both Endoscopy & Ultrasonography? Dr. Kayla Ferrell DVM has brought the skills & knowledge to utilize both instruments for the betterment of her patients to FVC. With the advantage of having both instruments in-house we can provide better diagnostics for our patients and provide our clients with answers to problems & questions in regard to their pets' health. Dr. Ferrell is a key example of what can be accomplished when you take education & training from one of the best veterinary schools in the country and apply it. We are so glad that she has returned home to us here at Flanary Veterinary Clinic & has made the commitment to help the residents of her hometown & their pets!

In closing,

I have had several senior pets in my life time and I can tell you that once they hit a certain age then arthritis is bound to play a role in how they feel just like it does in humans. And the cold with winter, makes it worse. Our pets can not tell us they are hurting and sometimes as owners we do not recognize the subtle changes in our pets due to arthritis pain because we are with them every day. Be proactive and have your senior pet evaluated with radiographs to see how bad the arthritis is and have your pet's veterinarian decide what is the best treatment protocol to help prevent or treat arthritis. I have used the Arthritis Monthly Injections on my senior pets in the last few years and have seen amazing results and no side effects at all!!

We are very excited about 2026 & this wonderful team! Keep up with us on our social media pages & our monthly newsletters for the latest information and specials. We will continue to help your pets and keep them healthy with our curbside, in-clinic, and drop off appointment options. Watch our progress as we build on to the clinic with our new surgery suite and euthanasia room. Here is too an amazing 2026!

LaNita S. Flanary, DVM
