2025— Issue 10

October is time to celebrate seniors!

At Flanary Vet Clinic October is one of my favorite months, its SENIOR MONTH! As pets age their needs change and getting their senior tests done can help the veterinarian make sure your pet lives a long and happy life!

When pets become senior citizens they have more health issues. At Flanary Vet we want to make sure we pick up on any issues early! This is why we do senior testing on them regularly. By doing senior bloodwork annually, taking x-rays, checking their urine, and checking their hearts with an EKG machine we know what their “normal” values and issues are. By having a “baseline” for your senior pets, we are able to help determine what is different, and in the future, what we need to do to help your pet if anything changes with their health.

Your Pets Senior Card and Senior Testing

FLANARY VETERINARY CLINIC SENIOR CITIZEN CARD for ELLIE FLANARY
GHP (Blood panel)	CBC Complete Blood Count	EKG	URINALYSIS	X- RAYS	THYROID
$83.25	$39.50	$45.00	$39.75	$95	$45

This is the senior card we give to your pet which has six tests or procedures on it that are all important for your pet’s health as he/she ages. All tests can be done at different visits. If all senior tests are done at the same visit then the cost is $254 in October which saves you $106.85

- ✓ GHP (blood panel): This is an extremely useful tool at looking inside your pet’s body. It detects liver, kidney, and gall bladder problems, checks protein levels and also checks for diabetes. Many problems can be found and treated before the pet ever shows signs or gets sick.

- ✓ CBC (complete blood count): This is another blood test that is very useful. It detects anemia, infections, clotting disorders, and more.
- ✓ Urinalysis: Testing the urine of your senior pet can find problems such as urinary tract infections, bladder crystals/stones, diabetes, and kidney problems.
- ✓ Thyroid test: Many senior dogs develop hypothyroid disease and may or may not show signs. Advanced stages can cause hair loss, anemia, inactivity, weight gain, and many other problems. Senior cats can develop hyperthyroid disease, in which they tend to ravenously eat and still become very skinny. Many complications can occur including high blood pressure and heart problems. Thyroid tests are easily done by drawing a blood sample.
- ✓ EKG: Checking the heart for abnormalities can be found by simply placing 3 small painless probes on your pet for just a few minutes.
- ✓ X-rays: Taking an internal “picture” of your senior pet’s chest and/or abdomen can look at the size of the heart and can sometimes see cancerous growths or masses. X-rays of the bones can see arthritis or degenerating bone. Your pet may have an individual need that needs to be assessed.

“Guess What ? “

Vaccines are Important Parvo is Rampant!

We have seen several cases of Parvo in this last 4 weeks! That is absolutely unbelievable! What did all of these dogs have in common? None of them were up to date on their vaccinations or had never had any. The average treatment cost for Parvo is $1500.00 with a 50% survival rate. The cost of a DHLPP vaccine which protects against

Distemper (from racoons commonly in our area)

Hepatitis (passed through saliva, nasal discharge, feces & urine of infected dog)

Leptospirosis (can get from drinking from puddles or the ground)

Parvo (passed from dog to dog easily. Even by flies on their poop)

Parainfluenza (spread through coughing & sneezing of infected dogs) is only $24.00. All vaccinations a dog needs are $56.50 without an exam. That is a far cry from $1500.00 or the potential of losing your pets, So please keep up to date on your pet's vaccinations or get them if your pet has not had them – today!!! Let's stop this epidemic. There also have been 10 cases of Rabies in Kentucky so far this year.

When the nights start getting cooler, then the fleas go into survival mode! That means they jump on your pets when they go out to potty & hitchhike their way right into your house. Flea infestations are more common in the fall than any other time of the year. So, keep your pet on Bravecto & keep the fleas off your pet & out of your house!!! This month Bravecto will be on special. We are already cheaper than Chewy or PetMeds! The deal is purchase 12 months and get $25 off so that is $278.96 – 298.96 or purchase 6 months and get $10 off so that is $141.98 – 151.98 depending on the size of your pet.

I want to remind you of the "Walk to End Alzheimers" coming up October Please join the Flanary Veterinary Clinic Team and help support us in our quest to end Alzheimer's. My Mom passed away in 2019 and as you all know- SHE IS WHY I WALK!!!! So please give me your support and join our team today!!
